Scope of Work

Our collaboration with the real estate developer in Bucharest's Berceni area involved a meticulous approach to address their challenges and meet their strategic objectives. The scope of our work encompassed the following key components:

Competitive Intelligence

We conducted a thorough analysis of competitors' offerings, pricing strategies, and market positioning within the Berceni area, providing valuable insights into the client's competitive landscape.

Syndicated & Personalized Market Research

Customized research was undertaken to focus on the client's specific interests in Berceni, including the analysis of price trends, transaction volumes, and demand fluctuations to provide actionable insights tailored to their needs.

Data Collection and Analysis

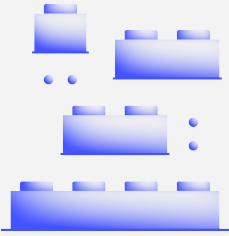

Quantitative and qualitative data were gathered and analyzed to offer a comprehensive view of current market conditions and historical trends in Berceni and Bucharest at large.

Trend Identification and Forecasting

Advanced analytics were employed to identify ongoing trends and predict future market developments, enabling strategic planning and forecasting for the client's investments.

By addressing these key areas within our scope of work, we aimed to equip the client with the necessary insights and strategic guidance to navigate the complex and dynamic real estate market in Bucharest Berceni area effectively.

The Process

To address the client's challenge, we implemented a holistic process involving Competitive Intelligence, Syndicated & Personalized Market Research, tailored to their specific needs. The steps included:

Client Briefing

Engaging in detailed discussions with the client to understand their specific needs, goals, and challenges. This can be achieved through one-on-one meetings, workshops, or questionnaires.

Identifying Key Areas of Interest

Based on the briefing, identifying the specific areas the client is interested in. For this case, it involved understanding that the client wanted insights into price evolution, transaction values, and residential demand in the Bucharest's Berceni area.

Defining the Scope of the Project

Clearly outlining what the project will cover and agreeing on this with the client. For this project, the scope included analysis at both the national and local level.

Data Collection

We collected qualitative and quantitative data. This involved studying historical transaction records, sales contracts, and current real estate listing prices in the Berceni area and Bucharest at large. We also analyzed national data for context.

Market Analysis

Examining price evolution, transaction values, and residential property demand, including quarterly and annual trends.

Competitor Analysis

We analyzed the competitive landscape by investigating transaction values of other real estate and commercial spaces for sale in the target area. We also considered the building permits issued for residential buildings in the region, providing insight into future market dynamics.

Trend Identification and Forecasting

Comprehensive presentation of findings, recommendations, and roadmap for implementation.

Tailored Reports

We compiled comprehensive reports summarizing our research and analysis. The document provided a detailed understanding of the current market scenario, historical trends, and future forecasts, helping the client make informed decisions.

Our process was rooted in a deep understanding of the client's needs and the specifics of the Bucharest real estate market, ensuring our findings were both relevant and valuable.
